Join the County's Band Of Ham Radio Operators

Dr. Tom O'Connor, call sign KE5SZA; Don Loving, KM5OX; and Clarizza Carroll, KF5CMP, participate in an annual Field Day for Love County's 47 amateur radio operators.

They made radio contacts with "hams" around the country and used a specialized antenna to track orbiting satellites.

Who Are They?

Members of the local radio club will be holding a Field Day at the hospital communications room and Growers Market pavilion from noon until dark on Saturday, June 25. Come out and see what it's like to be a ham radio operator.

Become A Ham

To become a ham operator, enroll in a certification class. The trainings are held throughout the year in Ardmore. To learn more or pose a request for training, go to the Facebook group, Arbuckle Technology Society, or website www.arbuckletechnologysociety.org.

Public Service

Numerous amateur radio operators around the county assist during times of severe weather or disasters. They serve as storm spotters, damage assessors, and logistics coordinators. They are a vital backup communication system if electric and cellphone service is knocked out.
